

PREDICT VICTORY

British Look for Quick Success in Operations Against the Dardanelles.

London, Aug. 24.—Optimistic reports concerning the Gallipoli operations have been in circulation for the past few days and prophecies are freely made that two weeks will see the close of the allies' most difficult task in the Near East. The Turks, too, expect the Anglo-French forces to be successful, if news reaching Sofia from Constantinople is reliable.

It is felt here now that so far as the Dardanelles is concerned it is a matter of indifference to the allies whether the Balkan States lend a hand. Their assistance is wanted, however, against Austria and also to shorten the Turkish resistance if the straits are opened. For these reasons negotiations in the Near East are being watched closely and Serbia's decision on the proposal of the quadruple entente for satisfying the aspirations of Bulgaria, which will be reached at a council of ministers tomorrow, is awaited anxiously.

To Bring Bulgaria In.

It is believed in London that Serbia's reply will be satisfactory and that Bulgaria's co-operation will be assured. This would open the way also for an active policy on the part of Roumania, which wants assurances that Bulgaria will not attack her before she begins to move her troops. It is confidently expected all these questions will be settled satisfactorily to the allies and that within the same period the future policy of Greece will be announced definitely.

In the meantime Austro-Hungarian armies are aiming more and heavier blows at Russia in the hope of putting her on the defensive indefinitely and permitting the removal of some of their own troops to other fronts, particularly Serbia and Italy, in the hope of repeating their Eastern successes.

Some Encouragement.

The Russians are encouraged, however, by their naval victory in the Gulf of Riga, which has delayed Field Marshal von Hindenburg's great out-flanking movement through Courland, and are offering stiff resistance at almost every point in the Baltic provinces.

While the Russians are falling back east and south of Kovno, it is explained by Petrograd that this was necessary to prevent them from being out-flanked. They still hold both banks of the Niemen river from Preny, just south of Kovno, southward to Grodno, one of the few fortresses still held by them.

On all sides of Brest-Litovsk the Austro-Germans claim to be making progress, while well to the southeast of the fortress the Austrians report their cavalry has entered Kovel, an important railway junction on the lines to Kiev and Plovno.

There has been heavy fighting in the Vosges without any change in the positions of the opposing armies.

BETHEA CAN'T HANDLE THE BEAUFORT PETITION

Manning Never Designated Him to Act as Governor During His Absence.

News and Courier.

Columbia, Aug. 24.—The lieutenant governor can only act as governor by designation of the chief executive, even though the latter be absent from the State, according to an opinion given this morning to Lieutenant Governor Andrew J. Bethea by Attorney General Thomas H. Peeples.

A petition was filed with Lieutenant Governor Bethea by citizens of Beaufort, asking him to recall the mayor and councilmen, as provided under the commission form of government, the petition having been addressed to him because of the absence of Governor Manning, who is attending the governors' conference in Boston. The lieutenant governor requested the attorney general for an opinion as to whether or not he was acting governor in the absence of Governor Manning. The attorney general said he was not, and could not act except by designation of the governor.

The lieutenant governor, in a letter to Senator Neils Christensen, agrees with the opinion of the attorney general and returns the recall petition to him. His letter to the Beaufort senator follows:

"Hon. Neils Christensen, Beaufort, S. C. My Dear Senator: Referring to the petition, signed by citizens of the town of Beaufort, asking an election for the recall of Mayor Danner and Councilman Marscher, and addressed to me because of the absence of Governor Manning from the city, I respectfully beg to return herewith the said petition to you, and regret to say that I feel it my duty to decline to act in this matter.

"Immediately upon receipt of the petition, I referred the matter to the Honorable Thomas H. Peeples, attorney general of the State of South Carolina, and requested him to give me an opinion as to my authority to act in the absence of the governor, and as you will observe from the conclusion of the said opinion by the attorney general, copy of which is herewith enclosed, it is the opinion of the attorney general that the lieutenant governor is not authorized to act in the governor's absence—

"Unless the governor may publicly place the lieutenant governor in charge of the government, so that the term of absence of the governor shall appear of record."

"Governor Manning has not so placed me in charge of the government, and, as stated above, I feel it my duty to decline to act upon the petition.

"Yours very truly,

"Andrew J. Bethea,
"Lieutenant Governor."

HAVE FAITH IN WILSON.

Boston Governors' Convention Passes Resolution of Confidence and Support.

Boston, Aug. 24.—Resolutions of confidence and support were sent to President Wilson today by governors of nearly a score of States attending their annual conference here.

The resolution, introduced by Governor Walsh of Massachusetts, said: "The governors of the several commonwealths of the nation, in conference assembled, desire to tender to you an expression of their confidence and support in this hour of deep international concern, and to assure you of their readiness to follow your leadership in all matters which you may deem best to promote the honor and maintain the peace and welfare of the nation and the whole people."

A sharp division of opinion manifested itself at the conclusion of addresses by former Governor William H. Mann of Virginia and Governors Robert L. Williams of Oklahoma and Moses Alexander of Idaho, who urged the extension of powers of the governor. Former Governor Alva Adams of Colorado took advantage of the opportunity for discussion afforded by the program.

"You would have us drift away from democracy, to drift from the policies of Thomas Jefferson to those of Alexander Hamilton," he said.

"It is an idea entirely contrary to our ideas of democracy. It is a power that belongs to a monarchy."

Demand by People.

Francis E. McGovern, former governor of Wisconsin, in differing from Mr. Adams, said it was the people who were demanding increasing powers for the governors. He expressed the belief that at the governors' powers might well be increased without encroaching on the legislative branch.

At the suggestion of former Governor Franklin Fort of New Jersey, presiding, Governor James S. Felder of New Jersey told of the operation of the short ballot in his State, and said that not only were the people satisfied, but they would be better pleased if it were shorter.

During the afternoon Governor Robert L. Williams of Oklahoma urged a law making a governor ineligible during his term of office and for six months afterwards for candidacy for the United States senate or for congress or for State office, so that all temptation for him to use his office for political advancement might be removed.

At the close of the discussion, Secretary of the Navy Daniels invited the governors with their wives and daughters to board the dreadnaught Wyoming tomorrow for a trip to Gloucester, during which the North Atlantic fleet of two score ships will pass in review before them.

Submarines and Aeroplanes.

"I shall recommend to congress the appropriation of a large sum for submarines and aeroplanes, which I realize are the most powerful weapons of warfare," said Secretary Daniels here today.

"I also favor faster and more powerful ships for the navy which, in spite of criticism, is in fine shape," he added. "There are fifty more ships in commission and 6,000 more men enlisted than two years ago."

Secretary Daniels came here from New London on the gunboat Dolphin to attend the governors' conference. He stopped on the way at the Fore River shipyard and inspected the battleship Nevada and two destroyers nearing completion. He also made sure that submarines built for a foreign power were still in the yard.

W. K. Thigpen, 109 Player street, Newberry, says: "The bending and heavy lifting I have to do in the mill weakened my kidneys and brought on backaches. If I stooped over, a sharp pain caught me across my loins and I could hardly straighten. The kidney secretions were too frequent, scanty in passage and burned like fire. I had dizzy spells and dull pains in the back of my head. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and a few doses relieved me. One box completely cured me."
